CROSSING DANGERS RAPPED

Bingham Says Railroad Hasn't Fulfilled Its Promise

Protest to R. H. Pinkham, superintendent of Ft. Wayne division of the Pennsylvania railroad, was filed Wednesday by City Manager C. A. Bingham against blockade of street
crossings by trains.

Request for elimination of street crossing dangers on the company's right-of-way thru the city
was also filed by Manager Bingham.

Main-st. traffic was tied up Tuesday night for 65 minutes, from 10:40
to 11:45, by a Pennsylvania train in charge of Conductor C. A. Ames.

FIVE-MINUTE LIMIT
City ordinances specify five minutes as a maximum for blockade of street crossings, according to the city manager, who insists that violation by utilities of the municipal law not only holds up street cars and motor traffic but would be disastrous in event of fires by holding up fire fighting equipment.

Promises have been made by railroad
officials to eliminate crossings dangers after inspections, and recommendations by the state public utilities commission. These promises have not been lived up to, Bingham stated, and in his letter he again petitioned for action.

ORR GRILLED AS TO FILM DEALS

Daugherty Probers Hold Short
Session as Wheeler is Ill

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press)—The Daugherty investigation committee had a brief, dull, drab
session today because Senator Wheeler, the committee "prosecutor," had a bad cold and remained at home.

With A. Orr, former private secretary to Governor Whitman of New York, was grilled further about the film "deals" and whisky "deals" on which he testified yesterday, but the committee turned aside from Orr to hear briefly again Masco Stewart,
a Galveston, Texas, lawyer who complained in his testimony yesterday that the department of justice had been lax in prosecution of lotteries, and heard briefly T. D. Dawkins, a Texas postoffice inspector.

Attorney General Daugherty's
counsel brought out on cross-examination that the government had been prosecuting the concerns Stewart complained of but the witness insisted they had not been prosecuted
under the lottery law, as he complained they should have been. The attorney general's counsel announced they did not wish to cross-examine Orr and he was excused indefinitely.

44 DROWN WHEN VESSELS CRASH

Submarine is Sunk in Collision With Warship

SASEBO, Japan — (Associated Press)—The 800-ton submarine 43
of the Japanese navy collided today with the warship Tatsuta during maneuvers and sank with four officers and 40 men in 26 fathoms of water, ten miles outside Sasebo harbor. Several hours later the warship ascertained that while attempts at rescue were proceeding,
there was little hope there could be any survivors.
The submarine went down suddenly after the collision.
The 43, constructed two years ago
in the second under water craft of the Japanese navy lost in the past seven months, another having sunk off Kobe last August.

Girls Employes Must Bob Hair

AKRON — (Associated Press)—
Because county health authorities said bobbed hair "is not only convenient and stylish but helpful," County Clerk A. C. Bachtel has ordered all girl employes in the Summit-co clerk's office to have their hair bobbed by April 1. A majority of the girls say they are "tickled to death" over the order because they have found a way to overcome protests of their relatives against bobbed hair.

Johnson, LaFollette Expected to Gain on Country Count

FARGO, N. D. — (Associated Press)—President Calvin Coolidge maintained more than a two to one lead over Senator Hiram Johnson of California and Senator
Robert M. LaFollette of Wisconsin for the Republican presidential preference endorsement on the compilation today of incomplete and unofficial returns from yesterday's statewide primary.

The first scattered returns were mostly from cities and towns, in 55 of the state's 53 counties. Most of the rural precincts remain to be heard from.

The totals of Senators Johnson and LaFollette were swelled as the rural precincts began to report and Johnson headquarters here expressed confidence that more complete figures would swing the tide
in his favor.

LAFOLETTE'S BACKERS PLEASED

The vote polled by Senator La-Follette was noted with satisfaction by his backers, especially in view of the fact that his name was withheld from the ballot at his request. Stickers were pasted on the ballots by his adherents.

Figures from 243 precincts of 3,058 in the state gave: Coolidge,
14,271; Johnson 6,088 and LaFollette, 4,276.

William G. McAduo was unopposed for Democratic presidential preference endorsement.

American Landing Force Rushed to Honduran Port

WASHINGTON — Associated Press)—A landing force of 167 sailors and nine officers from the cruiser Milwaukee at Amapala, Honduras, is being rushed today from that port
to Tegucigalpa, the Honduran capital, where wild disorder prevails.

The landing force was asked for
by American Minister Morales for the protection of the American legation and consular offices, fired upon by drunken soldiers over which the Honduran ministry has lost all control.

Consular advisers from Tegucigalpa
also said many innocent persons were being shot down and looting was rampant.

Losses estimated at $400,000 have been suffered, principally by British,
Chinese and American merchants.

VICTIM BEATEN TO DEATH

Adventuress in Matrimony Practicing Osteopathy

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — (Associated Press)—The financial affairs of Dr. Zoe Wilkins, wealthy adventuress in matrimony, are being delved into by the police in an effort to solve
her mysterious and gruesome murder discovered here last night.

Dr. Wilkins, 35, a practicing osteopath and once the wife of the late Thomas W. Cunningham, aged banker of Joplin, Mo., from whom she obtained more than $300,- 000 before he divorced her, was beaten and slashed to death in a terrific fight in her home some time since Saturday night.

The slaying was revealed when Mrs. L. F. Palmer went to collect rent.

Dr. Wilkins kept hidden in her home securities worth more than $100,000, according to Jesse James, her attorney. He said she lived in constant fear of her life.

LEADS DEVELOPED
That in Dr. Wilkins' tangled financial affairs will be found a motive for the murder is the belief of the police,
altho several other leads are being developed.

Dr. Wilkins spent lavishly after she induced her banker-husband to turn over to her a large part of his wealth, but lately there were indications that she was not so prosperous.

As a student of osteopathy at Kirksville, Mo., Zoe Wilkins, when 19 began her matrimonial ventures. She married a fellow student named Dryer, from whom she separated in Texas about a year later. Next she married Dr. C. K. Garring from whom she also was separated. In 1916 she married Cunningham, the Joplin banker, after being his companion for two years. Her chauffeurcompanion, A. W. Marshfield, now an automobile dealer of Colorado Springs, Colo., was her next husband
and that venture also ended in divorce.

FORBES PLEADS NOT GUILTY

Indictments at Chicago Attacked by Thompson

CHICAGO — (Associated Press)
—John W. Thompson, St. Louis and Chicago contractor jointly indicted with Colonel Charles R. Forbes, former director of the veterans' bureau charged today in a sworn statement in the federal district court that the indictments voted by the grand jury
had been obtained by "subterfuge,
misrepresentation, false pretenses,
duress and threats."

The statement was submitted in support of a motion by Thompson's counsel to quash the indictment against him. A court order also was sought to restrain the use of books and papers belonging to Thompson as evidence against him.

Attorneys for Forbes entered pleas of "not guilty" on all four indictments against him and Thompson, jointly and individually, and Thompson entered pleas of not guilty to three of the indictments fourth which charged conspiracy to defraud.

Thompson was subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury with certain of his books and papers on the evidence submitted to government
counsel but he never was permitted to testify, according to his counsel.
The statement also charges that during the grand jury investigation "inflammatory" articles appeared in the Chicago press, and that "propaganda" was being disseminated by some one for the purpose of so inflaming public sentiment and public prejudice that a fair hearing or investigation would be impossible.

Begging Is Cinch, Prisoner Asserts

TIFFIN — (Associated Press)—
The secret of prosperity without labor was expounded to police here yesterday by Harry M. Smith of Fremont, arrested on a charge of vagran-
cy. "Work is monotonous," was Smith's philosophy. "Then it's so dreary. Begging is a cinch. Here's the result of six hours of it."

With that he turned a pocket inside out and $9 in nickels and dimes
rolled over the police station floor.

COMPETITIVE BIDS TO BE ASKED

Attempt Being Made to Settle
West End Sewer Troubles

COMMITTEE IS SELECTED

Ruling Rate of Commission
Sought by Property Owners

Competitive bids for engineering and related services to be rendered
on the county sewer district established west of the corporation limits of Lima will be obtained.

This was decided at a meeting of the property owners in that district held Tuesday night in the office of A. W. Wheatley. More than 50 property owners were present.

Following a discussion of the entire situation brought to a climax because a number of the property owners believed a seven per cent commission to be paid to K. B. Allen, engineer, too high it was decided to appoint a committee to act.

COMMITTEE NAMED
Will Mackenzie was named chairman of this committee. He chose Fred Cook, Lynn Timmerman, Roy Fletcher and Henry Goeke as the members of his committee. Each represents some one individual interests in the sewer district.

Property owners are satisfied with both Allen and J. H. Myers, the latter having been selected sanitary engineer for the district. It was said following the meeting. The owners, however, believe seven per cent commission to be paid Allen is too high.

This committee will attempt to get competitive bids on the work that Allen had planned to do and either get a lower rate or show that the seven per cent rate is fair and in line with the custom in other places, it was said.

Every effort is to be made to get the work started as soon as possible as the sewer work must be completed before any paving can be laid or extensive construction work
can be started on homes.

COAL MAN TAKEN BY APOPLEXY

Attacked in Office by Disease;
Dies Within Half Hour

Morris P. Goetschius, 61, secretary of the Lima Coal Co., died suddenly Tuesday afternoon in his office in the American Bank Bldg. following a stroke of apoplexy.

Goetschius had been in apparently good health and had not complained of feeling ill. Mrs. Goetschius and several office employees were in the room when he suffered the stroke.

They summoned a physician but he died thirty minutes later without regaining consciousness.

He was born in Ottawa in 1863 and came to Lima six years ago to reside
altho he had been associated in business here for 12 years. Prior to his connection with the Lima Coal Co.
seven years ago, he was with the Goetschius Stone Quarry.

He was a member of the Lima Club and the Elks and Masonic Lodges.
Besides the widow, he is survived by one sister, Mrs. Morris Rice, of Baton Rouge, La.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

BOYS SEE TRIO GET AWAY

One Keeps Watch as Two Pals
Work Inside Store

Three masked highwaymen
with revolvers in each hand held up and robbed Max Luck-hoff at his grocery store at the corner of Holmes and Hughesavs, Tuesday at 8:20 p. m. and escaped with about $18 in cash.

Police were summoned to the scene of the daring holdup by Luckhoff after the bandits had made their escape. Search of the vicinity
by police showed the men had escaped.

Luckhoff told the police he did not know which way the robbers went or whether they escaped by auto. When he went out side the store they had disappeared from his sight.

Some small boys who were playing around the school house about one block away told Luckhoff Wednesday morning they saw three men running from his store about the time of the holdup, get into an automobile by the school house and drive away.

Luckhoff was behind the front counter waiting for his son Max to return from a neighbors. He was smoking and reading the evening newspaper when two men came in the store.

TWO GUN MEN
Thinking a customer had entered he got up from the chair with his pipe in his mouth and the paper in his hand only to be greeted by two masked men with a revolver in each hand and the command to throw up his hands.

One shouted to the other to get behind the counter and rifle the cash
register, while the third kept watch
on the outside from the front door.

Putting his two guns into his pocket
the second man went behind the counter and started to take the money from it while the other kept Luck-hoff covered.

"We don't want to bother with all these coppers, do we?" asked the one at the register. "Take it all, take it all," exclaimed the man who was keeping Luckhoff covered.

The man after taking all the money
from the register went to Luckhoff and searched his pockets. Nothing was found.

"Go out and get the car started,"
commanded the one who was covering Luckhoff and who seemed to be the "boss."

Giving the other two men time to get to the automobile and get it started, the leader slowly backed out of the door saying "Don't move or say a word or I will drill you, and if I miss you this time I will get you again."

Wheeling around on his heel he ran down the steps and started in a dead run towards the school house, where he is alleged to have joined his companions and the three made their escape.

Fliers Perish When Japanese Dirigible Takes Fire

TOKIO — (Associated Press)—
A small naval dirigible caught fire and fell late yesterday northeast of Tokio, killing the crew of five men.
The body of the commander was the only one found, the other four probably having leaped from the blazing airship before it plunged into a forest.

The dirigible was on the way from the Kasumigaura naval aviation school to the Yokosuka naval base.
Naval circles, deeply affected by the loss of the submarine 43 with 44
men aboard, were further depressed
by the dirigible accident only a few hours later.

scious condition yesterday after he had beaten his head against the sharp edges of the iron bars of his cell.

AVIATORS FINISH SECOND LEG

Army Men Ready to Resume
Flight Around World

EUGENE, Ore. — (Associated Press)—On the third leg of the army round-the-world flight, the three big Douglas planes which landed here last night from Mather field, Sacramento, were ready for the air this morning after a careful going over by mechanics last night while the fliers, Major Martin and Lieutenants Smith and Wade, rested after being entertained at a banquet.

Today's flight will end at Seattle, but a brief stop at noon will be made at Vancouver Barracks, Washington, where it was originally planned to end the second leg.
Decision to stop last night at Eugene was made just before the flight started yesterday morning
when it was thought that the distance to Vancouver was too great,
and that the trip from Eugene to Seattle should be made easily today.

Lieutenant Erik H. Nelson, engineering officer of the flight, prevented by late delivery of his plane
from accompanying the other three,
planned to take the air today at Santa Monica, Calif.

He expected to follow the trail
of the others with landings at Sacramento, Calif., and Eugene, Ore.

BRITISH START TUESDAY

LONDON — (Associated Press)
—The latest British attempt at round-the-world flight will be started next Tuesday when three aviators, headed by Squadron Commander A. Stuart MacLaren plan to hop off from Calshot, at the entrance to Southampton
water, making their first stop at Lyons, France.

Thence they will fly by stages to Brindisi, Italy; Athens, Cairo, Bagdad, Basra, Karachi, Calcutta,
Rangoon, Hong Kong, Tokio,
across the Pacific by way of the Aloutian Islands to Vancouver, Toronto and New Foundland. According to the present plan the homeward hop over the Atlantic will be by way of the Azores and Lisbon.

MOVIE MAN SUED

Anita Stewart's Brother Demands $50,000 of Ralph Ince

NEW YORK — (Associated Press)—Ralph Ince, motion picture
director, has been served with papers in a $50,000 damage suit filed against him by his brother-in-law, George Stewart, brother of Anita Stewart, film actress, as the aftermath of a fight between the two last August, it became known today.

The fight, Stewart charges, occurred in a lonely spot on the Boston post-rd, while he, Ince and several others were motoring to New York
after visiting road houses. Ince is alleged to have ordered the driver to stop the car and to have directed Stewart to alight. The fight followed.

Stewart said he received injuries,
including a fractured skull, which confined him to a hospital for three weeks after the encounter.

STORY OF OFFERS TOLD TO PROBES

Gilmore Relates Rumors Heard at Chicago in 1920

MYSTERY MAN IS QUIZZED

James G. Darden Testifies of Teapot Dome Venture

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press)—Gossip about an
"oil deal" at the Republican national convention in 1920 and a story about a venture in Teapot Dome that collided with that of Harry F. Sinclair, made up today's book of testimony in the oil inquiry.

The tale about the Chicago convention was brought before the oil committee by Tiffin Gilmore,
deputy secretary of state of Ohio,
who worked in 1920 for Leonard Wood. He said it was "common talk" that there had been a deal
between oil operators and the possible nominee; that he understood an offer was made to Wood and was refused; but that he knew the names of none of the men concerned and had no "first hand information whatever to support the story."

DARDEN ON STAND

James G. Darden, friend of President Harding and a man of far ranging interests, testified about the Teapot venture in which he himself was interested along with John F. Campion and Robert G. Taylor. He said they had made claim to 160 acres, without a fence or a "scratch" upon it;
had been promised some sort of an adjustment by Secretary Payne in the Wilson administration but never had applied for a lease and eventually had been ejected by marines after the reserve was leased to Sinclair.

Darden declared he had learned that "gossip" two months in advance that Sinclair was to get the lease. An arrangement was made with the Mutual Oil Co. to develop the claim, and Darden's lawyer, Robert S. Bright, told the committee that the development company began work after it became known that the Sinclair lease had been consummated. Their hope was, he said, to contest the legality of the Sinclair contract but when Darden took the matter up with President Harding and Attorney General Daugherty
he found that Interior Secretary Fall was determined to clear the Mutual off the reservation forthwith
by force.

TO RECALL SINCLAIR

The committee expects at tomorrow's session to again question G. D.
Walbridge, former secretary to Harry
F. Sinclair, and on Friday to recall Sinclair himself.

The witness said he learned thru "gossip" that Harry F. Sinclair was to get Teapot Dome two months before the lease was signed on April 7, 1922.

This "gossip" came from oil men who were "coming and going" at Washington constantly, Darden said.
"Did you take it up with President Harding and Mr. Daugherty?" asked Senator Dill, Democrat, Washington.

"I did," was the reply.
"I went first to see Assistant Secretary Finney, of the interior department who told me 'the old man' was handling the matter."

Later Darden said he saw Albert
B. Fall, then secretary of the interior, who told him he had no claim. He then went west to see John F. Campion,
one of his partners, he said,
without seeing President Harding, but the president later wrote him a letter calling him to Washington.

"Have you that letter?" asked Senator Walsh.

"I have it home and can furnish it," Darden explained that he got his claims from the Belgo company, one of those Sinclair bought out after he secured the lease. He presented what purported to be a copy of the deed
which was included in a bill of complaint against the Mammoth Oil Co.
by Darden and his partners, Campion
and Robert G. Taylor.

"What did you pay for your share of this?" asked Senator Walsh.

"I don't know exactly. Campion and Taylor were to finance it and I was to pay my proportion."

Robert S. Bright, counsel for Darden, said the land was gained as a result of a compromise with the Belgo company which had a dispute over claims with Campion and Taylor.

"When did you apply if you ever applied?"

STORM DAMAGES ASKED IN SUIT

Action for $359 Grows Out of 1922 Cloudburst

SEWER CLOSED, IS CHARGE

Loco Works Made Defendant
in Case

Suit to recover $359 damage wrought by a cloudburst and flood in Lafayette-st., Sept. 2, 1922, was filed in common pleas court Wednesday by Charles Roddy, against the Lima Locomotive works.

Roddy was living in Lafayette-st. at the time of the flood. He recites that the sewer draining the street passed under the B. & O. tracks, into the Locomotive plant, and was in that portion of Third-st. now part of the work.

James Stewart, co. contractors engaged in excavating the plant, cut the sewer in excavating for foundations of a new building.

Concrete was poured into the open end, it is charged, Sept. 2, 1922, a heavy rainfall and cloudburst inundated ground along Lafayette-st. Water backed up to a depth of six and seven feet flooding homes.

Roddy alleges that his furniture and household goods were ruined by the flood. Residents of Lafayette-st. were driven from home by the flood and many were rescued by the fire department and police.

'GOES WEST' WITH CHEERFUL HEART

Farewell Letters of Dead Aviator
Are Made Public

CLEVELAND—(Associated Press) —Two letters urging his aviator friends "all over the world" to "stick to it," were made public today by Mrs. Kate Hyde-Pearson of Santa Monica, Calif., mother of Captain Leonard Brooke Hyde-Pearson, world war flier and air mail pilot, killed ten days ago in the mountains of Pennsylvania, while carrying mail from New York to Cleveland.

The letters addressed "to my beloved brother pilots and pals," were marked "to be opened only after my death."

"I go west, but with a cheerful heart," one of the letters read. "I hope what small sacrifice I have made may be of use to the cause."

"When we fly we are fools, they say. When we are dead, we weren't half bad fellows. But every one in this wonderful aviation service is doing the world far more good than the public can appreciate. We risk our necks; we give our lives; we perfect a service for the benefit of the world at large. They mind you, are the ones who call us fools."

"But stick to it, boys. I'm still very much with you all. See you all again."

Captain Hyde-Pearson was buried here Sunday. It was not until after his death that his associates knew he had been awarded the British meritorious service cross and was a member of the Victoria cross.

TED IS ENJOYING SPRING WEATHER

"I'm in favor of enjoying this spring weather while I can," Ted informed a reporter for The Lima News Wednesday. He was standing on the corner in front of the Old National Bank enjoying the bright sunshine and a San Felipe cigar. "You will notice that I still wear my overcoat," he said. "That's because I have inside information that it will be cold just what it is, we felt naturally wanted it because we spent some money on it." He said "Fall is a kind of T. N. T." We did not say much more about it.

"Then we went on to discuss Senator Bursum. He wanted to know what I thought of him. I said he was a good fellow."

BUSINESS WOMEN DISCUSS PLANS

Industrial Exhibit and Annual Meeting Arranged

Plans for the industrial display at the Argonne hotel and for the annual meeting which will be held in June were completed Tuesday night at the monthly meeting at the Elks club of the Business and Professional Women's club.

Fifty members attended the banquet at 6:30 p. m., at which time seven new members, Miss Virginia Warner, Miss Ethel Hartshorne, Miss Ester Williams, Miss Katherine Chivington, Miss Izora Shumaker, Mrs. Eva Davidson and Mrs. Albert Brown were greeted.

Mrs. Helen Bowers Brady entertained with contralto solos, accompanied by Miss Helen Myers. The club also enjoyed musical singing.

At the business session a new members' committee composed of Miss Ella Marsh, Miss Emma Myers and Miss Eva Sherrick was appointed to greet strange girls in the city and arrange for their welfare. A registration bureau is to be opened at the Board of Commerce.

The annual meeting of the club is to be held in June. Invitations will be extended to clubs in Kenton, Delphos, Wapakoneta and other cities to attend. Some consideration was given to each member inviting a prospective member to attend.

Progress in the proposed industrial display to acquaint Lima residents with Lima made products was reported by Miss Mary Lamb, member of the industrial committee. The basement room at the Argonne hotel, which is to be used for the display, is being changed and from interest manifested by manufacturers, members of the club predict the success of the display.

OIL DEALS TALKED AT CONVENTION

did apply for a lease for the 160 acres in Teapot?"

"We never did apply."

Describing his conversation with President Harding after he had been called to Washington, Darden said the president said "Jim, how about this property you tell you own out in Wyoming?" "Well, I said, 'I do not know just what it is, we felt naturally wanted it because we spent some money on it.' He said 'Fall is a kind of T. N. T.' We did not say much more about it."

"Then we went on to discuss Senator Bursum. He wanted to know what I thought of him. I said he was a good fellow."

ATMOSPHERE SURCHARGED

The atmosphere at the Chicago Republican convention in 1920 was surcharged with stories of "oil deals," the committee was told by Gilmore.

One story was, Gilmore said, that oil operators had proposed to throw delegates support to Major General Wood if they were permitted to name the secretary of the interior. He denied that.

"I don't know except that they were big operators in the western district."

"Who made the proposition?"

"I do not know. I could not say. The proposition was made to General Wood."

In a conversation he had after the convention with Carmel Thompson, an Ohio Republican leader who was the nominee of his party for governor in 1922, Gilmore said there was some discussion of a land claim Thompson was interested in.

"What land did you refer to when you asked Carmel Thompson if he had the land?" asked Senator Bursum, Republican, New Mexico.

"The whole air was so surcharged I cannot tell. My impression was that it was some land adjacent to Bakersfield, Calif. I had never heard of Teapot Dome at that time."

"Did you gather the impression that Mr. Hamon (Jake Hamon, Republican national committeeman for Oklahoma) had anything to do with it?"

"I don't know what oil companies were in it. I do think, however, that a young man named Molitor told me Hamon was mixed up in it."

"You really know nothing of those matters except gossip on the street?"

"No man who knew ever told you."

"No sir."

SECOND ADD STORIES OF
Asked by Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, if he knew what real General Wood had made, Gilmore said:

"I was told he walked up and down at his hotel and said it was a 'shady' deal. That he would have nothing to do with it, and that they would have to defeat him."

FRIEND OF HARDING.
With that the witness was excused and the committee called James G. Darden, a man of many adventures whose name has been interwoven with disclosures in both the Daugherty and Teapot Dome inquiries.

Process servers had reported failure to locate him for a month but he denied that he had tried to avoid service of the committee's subpoena.

Darden said he had known President Harding a long time and had become intimate with him during the pre-convention campaign in 1920.

"Did you aid in bringing about his nomination?"

"I did everything I could."

"Did you raise any money?"

"I did, now and then, a very little."

"Where did you raise the money?"

"Among my friends, some of my Democratic friends, including some in North Carolina."

"Do you know Joseph Hall, of New York?"

"I do. I met him during the Harding campaign. He came to see us and wanted to help. Mr. Daugherty was there."

Darden said he also became intimate with Attorney General Daugherty during the Harding campaign.

Senator Walsh took the inquiry to Teapot Dome and Darden launched into a long recital of how he got claims in the Salt Creek field as well as in the naval reserve. He said there were 160 acres in Teapot involved and twice as much outside.

It was during the Wilson administration, Darden said that he took the matter up with the interior department.

Asserting that a Mr. Taylor had decided to contest with him his right to the land on Teapot Dome, Darden continued:

"Mr. Taylor came down and employed a Mr. Wilson, the president's brother. Mr. Payne (the secretary of the interior) decided in my favor for a small acreage. He never said anything about the 160 acres."

"I never discussed oil with Mr. Harding or Mr. Daugherty in my life until this matter came up," said the witness.

Mrs. Mack Harper, 717 W. Spring-st., who was injured in an automobile accident six weeks ago, is reported improving.

Fire at Woodsfield

WOODSFIELD, Ohio — (United Press) — Practically all of one block in the business section of the city was destroyed by fire today which was started by an explosion in a restaurant.

Eight buildings were burned to the ground with loss of $100,000.

The volunteer fire fighters of the town got on the job but the flames ate rapidly thru the frame buildings on the square which has been looked upon by the townspeople for some time as a fire trap.

DRUGGISTS FIGHT LICENSE LAW

Formal Protest is Filed With City Manager Bingham

Lima Drug Club committee in conference Wednesday morning with Manager C. A. Bingham at city hall officially petitioned that the city soft drink license as applicable to drug stores licensed under the state law be revoked.

Headed by E. B. Hale, president of the club, the committee formally protested against the law, which they say, classifies them the same as bootleggers and gives no distinction to the state law for registered pharmacists which provides for revocation of license for law violations.

Pharmacists stated their opposition to the city code was not based on the annual fee of $5 for license but in that the law held them accountable to the same extent as the state law under which registered drugstores are operated.

Strenuous objection to being classified with advertised drugstores which are not licensed under the state law and which they insist are not drugstores but stores that handle some drug supplies was filed by the committee in reference to the recent arrest of W. C. Harper, Wayne-st., whose store they told Manager Bingham was not a state licensed store. Harper was arrested for possession of Jamaica ginger.

The conference produced no results other than the Drug club's objections may be filed with city commission by Manager Bingham for commission's possible amendment of the city license measure.

HUMORIST ADDRESSES LION CLUB MEMBERS

Thurman (Dusty) Miller, humorist, gave a peppy, humorous talk before the Lions' club at Barr hotel Wednesday noon.

Miller, who is the editor of the "Willamette Daily News-Journal," used "service" as the keynote of his speech. He emphasized the fact that in order to make anything a success one must put into it more than is taken out.

"Every club or organization is divided into three classes," he said. "They are the 'Poor Me's', the 'Who Me's' and the 'Count Me's'."

The first class is always watching out for itself, and never gets into the spirit of the organization. The second always "passes the buck", and the third is the class that keeps the club together by being "up and doing."

Trip Here Nets One Vote Sure

"Say, I'm sure going to vote for that man. He's sure good looking."

"I thank you," declared Reed.

OLD DAN'S FAMILY IN NEW HOMES

Shafer's Shack Being Shorn of Its Queer Trimmings

TREASURE HUNT GIVEN UP

Trained Rooster Becomes Pet of Recluse's Grandson

OTTAWA — Only the black, scrubby shack will remain after Wednesday as a silent reminder of the queer domain which was "Old Dan's."

Shorn of its trimmings, the most people its forbidding atmosphere, Daniel Shafer's estate, once a home will emerge from the world of romance and enter the sphere of commerce as a storehouse for a planning mill.

Tuesday saw the curtain on the old man of the dogs and chickens who last Saturday lost his life in shoving from the path of a train one of the dogs who made their home with him and the chickens in the detached shack in Columbus Grove.

SEARCH HALTED
Tuesday saw the suspension of the search for the shack and the premises for demolitions and the removal of the shack. Wednesday saw the beginning of the legal termination of the tragedy victims' affairs.

For the present at least the hunt has been abandoned in accordance with Grant Shafer's belief that his father's side effects consist of his dumb friends, the unique collection of odds and ends about the lumber-shack place and the 214 in currency found sewed in his clothing.

The dogs and chickens, "Old Dan's" only intimate friends and who probably came close to having an under-regulating seal on their heads for their new homes much against their will. The poultry goes to Grant Shafer's place. The trained rooster becomes the pet of Grant's son, "Old Dan's" grandson. He made a terrible fuss when removed from his old quarters. He didn't even want to associate with the other feathered mount-ains.

The dogs will go to various individuals, the one whose life the recluse saved at cost of his own finding a roaming place on the Bird farm in Putnam-co. The birds are friends of the Shafer's and accompanied Grant to Ottawa to help in the funeral.

BIBLE TO DAUGHTER
To the daughter, Mrs. William Zeigler, 4044 Ala., will be given the old man's prized Bible with its many marked passages over which "Old Dan" for many years so studiously had devoted his attention. So many hours, through many nights, had he spent with his Bible that he was known as a thoro student who could quote to considerable length from the book.

N. F. Miller of Ottawa, former Putnam-co sheriff, is administrator of the estate. He was appointed at request of Grant Shafer who told the court he did not consider himself competent to undertake the task. A value of $218 was placed on the estate in the application for appointment, this representing the amount of money found in Shafer's clothing. The old man's generosity to his dogs and chickens with whom he shared his little home did not prevent him from saving enough to keep from being buried in a pauper's grave. But indications now are that "Old Dan" had accreted any considerable property anywhere it never will be known.

NO ARRESTS YET MADE IN "POISON BOOZE" CASE

OTTAWA — No arrests have been made as a result of the party held here last week and following which at least one girl became seriously ill.

County officials several days ago said an investigation was being made but admitted Wednesday no action has been taken. Belief was expressed following the party that at least some of those present drank poison liquor. It has been intimated that the source of the alleged liquor supply has been revealed but Julius S. Ogan, prosecuting attorney of Putnam-co, said Wednesday that any official action must depend upon the procuring of further evidence in the case.

Bella Richting, young waitress who was seriously ill following the party and whose life once was thought to be in danger, now has apparently recovered.

MAIL CLERK'S TESTED
OTTAWA — The annual examination given postoffice clerks by the chief clerk of the railway mail service at Toledo was held at the Putnam-co courthouse, Monday, for clerks in the Ottawa postoffice. ### SETTLEMENT IS DUE IN DEATH OF NOEL SMITH

COLUMBUS GROVE — Settlement by the Baltimore & Ohio railroad for the death here Feb. 29, of Noel Smith by a freight train, is to be made by the railroad company.

This became known Wednesday when A. L. Beloh, of Columbus Grove, was appointed administrator of Smith's estate. The probable value was set at $200 in personal effects.

To the court this was designated as anticipated value, for, it is said, the railroad company has offered to settle the claim for that amount.

Smith left no other property. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kirk Smith and a brother of Miss Telfa Smith, 21, now in a tuberculosis hospital in Mount Vernon, and Kenneth, 17, of Columbus Grove.

PHOTO RECALLED, REUNION LOOMS

Mother and Son May be United Thru Marshal's Memory

OTTAWA — Reunion of a mother and her wandering, homeless son loomed Wednesday as a probable result of Marshal B. M. Cahill's ability to remember faces.

Because Cahill saw the resemblance of a boy in the village jail to a picture he had seen several months ago, word of her son's detention here has been flashed to Mrs. J. P. Harden of Melrose, New Mexico.

Tired and hungry, weary of body and spirit and chilled by the night's wintry dampness, the boy appealed to Nightwatchman Wilson Crawfis for a place to sleep. Crawfis took the lad to the village lockup and gave him a bunk.

Next morning Marshal Cahill went to the jail to release those who had been locked up for the night. Sight of the youthful face of the lad whose appeal was answered by Crawfis struck Cahill as strangely familiar.

Cahill kept the lad for a few minutes while he searched his memory for the clue to the boy's identity which he felt certain he should find. Then he recalled a postcard received late last fall from authorities in Melrose, N. M., telling of the disappearance of Ragford Harden, 17, an easy-going happy-go-lucky boy who left home without funds to see the world alone.

Cahill hunted for the card but it had been mislaid and he couldn't find it. Then he remembered that along with the boy's description was a notation that the lad was friendly and willing to talk and discuss his home affairs with anybody.

The marshal decided to try it. Young Harden readily admitted his identity and said he had run away from home. He was not only willing but anxious to go back, he said, if he could find a way to get there and would be glad.

Ragford said he believed he would find a welcome at home and wonder-

WEDNESDAY
Knowing God's Love Thru Obedience

Read Mt. 26:26-28. Text: 26:39.

My Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass away from me; nevertheless, not as I will but as thou wilt.

"At certain definite points the will of God is pushing an individual forward so subtly as to give opportunity for the individual initiative requisite for character. When opposition to the will of God gives way, the sense of the presence of God may be very marked. In the new joy of carrying life forward with God, the person realizes that every sense of duty is an opportunity for the enlargement of life."

MEDITATION: Jesus' strength had its rise in his consciousness of the approving love of God, and as he submitted his life completely to the leading of God's spirit he found the rich rewards of the affection of his Father. "Obedience is on organ of spiritual knowledge."

PERSONAL QUESTION: Am I learning to know God thru obedience?

PRAYER: Help us, O Lord, to consecrate ourselves to thee afresh. Many our wills be so in accord with thine that we shall be channels of thy grace. Let our daily labor draw us close to thee that we may know thy will and serve thee better, thru Christ. Amen.

(Copyright, 1924)

If funds would be sent to pay his expenses back, Cahill took it up with Mayor W. A. Beutler and the message was sent to the boy's mother.

Unlike any other gas range made, the Favorite Oven is equipped with all cast bottom. It is a well known fact that cast iron will retain and distribute heat better than any other known metal. Further, cast iron does not rust out, as would a steel bottom; is practical and will outlast the range itself. Side racks are also of cast iron and absorb and radiate such volumes of heat that it is possible to bake and roast with less gas than an oven equipped with thin steel bottom and linings.

Porcelain Linings

On practically all Favorite gas ranges, the cast iron bottoms, side racks and back walls of the ranges, including inside oven door panels are coated with porcelain. This protects the range from rusting out at its most vital point through the action of acids contained in foods, condensation, etc.; and in addition, makes it easy to keep the inside of the oven as sweet and clean as the outside eat all times. NOTED EDUCATOR TO BE HONORED

U. S. Chiefs to Join in Eliot's Birthday Celebration

90 YEARS OLD TOMORROW

President Emeritus of Harvard Still Interested in Future

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. — (United Press) — A little old man, honored and beloved by the nation, in fact, by the world, will celebrate his ninetieth birthday tomorrow.

Charles William Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard University, and the guiding hand of that famed institution of learning for forty years, will tomorrow enter upon the ninth decade of his lifetime; will reach a point in life that few men attain. And yet, at 90, Eliot refuses to look back. His interest is ever for the future.

Today, Dr. Eliot is physically as active and as mentally alert as he was in 1909 when he retired from the presidency of Harvard.

YOUNGEST PRESIDENT

He was graduated from Harvard in 1852 and in 1869, at the age of 35, became its president. At that time he was the youngest president in the history of the college. The new president's influence in university affairs was felt immediately after his inauguration.

The celebration will be open to the public and will be conducted under the auspices of the Harvard Alumni Association, the Associated Board of Clubs and an honorary committee of citizens.

The citizens' committee will consist of about 200 men, representing various professions and occupations, chosen from all parts of the United States. President Coolidge is chairman of the committee and the vice-chairmen are William H. Taft, Governor of Massachusetts, and the Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Premier of Canada. Former President Woodrow Wilson had accepted a few weeks before his death the invitation to be one of the vice-chairmen.

The celebration will be held at Sanders Theatre at 3:30 o'clock. The academic procession of university and alumni officials, distinguished guests and others, will be formed outside Memorial Hall, where it will be joined by President Eliot. The body will then proceed to the theatre.

The program of addresses will include greetings from A. Lawrence Lowell, president of Harvard, on behalf of the Corporation; George W. F. Woodworth on behalf of the Board of Overseers; Dean L. B. R. Briggs, on behalf of the faculties of the university; and Chief Justice Taft. The Chief Justice will speak on behalf of the American public.

At the conclusion of the address, Dr. Eliot will make a response, after which other speakers, will proceed to the Harvard Yard, where, in front of University Hall, he will receive the greetings of the student body.

George Klinker, Greenlawn-av., has returned from Logan, O., where he attended the funeral services, Saturday, of his mother, Mrs. Eliza Klinker. Mrs. Klinker, who was 87 years old, died suddenly Thursday while sitting in a chair.

"Having purchased the town, I'll be able to keep watch over its morality," the professor explained.

ADA MAN HAS HEART, SO BOY AND GIRL KEEP DOGS

ADA — Bill Fredericks, famed in song and story by Ohio Northern students, is a humane society all by himself! This was disclosed today when it was learned that Bill has provided eight dogs with a year's extension of life when he purchased tags for them. All the dogs are of uncertain lineage and homeless.

Fredericks also assisted in paying for tags for two dogs owned by a little boy and girl. He is also the owner of two dogs. When questioned as to the reason for his action Bill remarked, "Aw, I hate to see the dog-catcher get 'em. Let the poor pooches enjoy 'life' after all there's only leading dog's lives."

FACTS ABOUT PEPGEN CONTINUE TO AMAZE CITIZENS OF LIMA

The new medical discovery Pepgen which is being introduced at Hunter's Drug Store by Walter Ellis Johnson and his assistant, Mr. Murray, continues to amaze the people of Lima. Every day new proof of its value in relieving long standing stomach, liver and kidney ailments is being brought to light. Hundreds of local people have testified as to the merit of this remarkable herbal remedy.

Among the recent cases to come to light is that of Mr. C. Nestra, of 215 East Vine street.

"My husband, says Mrs. Nestra, was in a terribly run down condition. He complained all the time of having pains and cramps in his stomach. It seemed like he would not eat anything that I would fix for him.

"In the morning I could scarcely get him up. He was more tired than when he went to bed. His back would hurt him so that he could scarcely stoop over to put his shoes on. He also complained of having a terrible headache.

"Just four weeks ago he went down to Hunter's Drug Store and got a bottle of this Pepgen. It has done wonders for him. Now his appetite is fine. He never complains about feeling bad and in the morning he gets up and goes to work feeling just fine. I know Pepgen is a good medicine because of the way it has helped my husband.

CAUTION: The genuine Pepgen which Mrs. Nestra has recommended is packed in a white and blue carton and may be obtained in Lima only at Hunter's Drug Stores, 49 Public Square and cor. Main and Wayne streets and The Argonne Store. There is a Pepgen store in every nearby town.—Adv.

It also stated that many are prejudiced against such examinations and that because of this attitude live in sub-normal health when their condition is easily remediable.

All who know tell of the immense value of regular physical examinations.

The cafe, said by the authorities to be a rendezvous for district politician, was crowded when the raiders entered. Beer, wine and whisky were served and a bar tender and the cafe manager were arrested. When the raiders started to leave the building the diners threw bottles. Shrieking whistles brought the rescuing police.

Combing Won't Rid Hair of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning most if not all of your dandruff will be gone and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store and it never fails to do the work.

BONUS BILL NOW UP TO SENATE

Change in Plan Expected to Extend Consideration There

MANY MEMBERS PLEDGED

Democratic Leaders for Full Cash Payment Option

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press) — With both the tax reduction and soldier bonus bills in the hands of the senate today an early decision is expected on a program for their consideration.

Altho the senate finance committee has been considering the revenue bill for two weeks, none of the rate schedules has been taken up.

The new bonus bill providing for paid up 20 year endowment life insurance policies and cash payments to veterans not entitled to more than $500 in adjusted compensation, passed the house yesterday by a vote of 353 to 54.

The old bill provided also for opening of vocational training or farm and home aid, with cash payment and deferred payment certificate programs corresponding to the proposals embodied in the new measure.

The change in the bonus plan is expected to extend consideration of it in the senate since many members are pledged, according to the American Legion, to support of the scheme worked out in the old bill.

Senator Simmons, North Carolina, ranking Democrat on the finance committee, has declared for the full cash payment option advocated by veterans in the Democratic party in the house.

Meanwhile the committee went ahead with its work on the revenue bill today, hearing treasury officials whose appearance was postponed yesterday pending completion of certain reports. The part of the bill now under consideration deals largely with definitions and technical details and the committee expects to reach the income tax schedule later in the week.

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a not mal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, yellow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit. 15c and 30c.

Why Grow Fat?

Druggist Tells of Easy Pleasant Way to Keep Trim Attractive Figure Even at Middle Age

Thousands of women who have had a trim, stylish figure all their lives, begin to take on weight in early middle life. And because they have heard of "Fat and Forty"—and because foolish starvation diets, ridiculous exercises and certain medicines only seem to make their condition worse, they give up all hope and say, "Oh, well, I rather be fat, anyway."

No special exercises or diets! No dangerous or sickening medicines. Just a cooling, sparkling agent, pleasant to take—but quickly and noticeably effective. Enterprize Drug Store or any good druggist can supply you with a large bottle of Wendell's Salts, Ambition Brand, for 60 cents and will return your money on the first bottle purchased if you are not more than satisfied.

IS THOUSAND PER CENT BETTER

He Says the Plant Juice Has Made An Immense Change in Condition

STOMACH TROUBLE IS GONE

"Since I have taken your Plant Juice Medicine, my general condition of health is not only 100 per cent better, but is actually improved 1000 per cent," said Mr. O. G. Zeuschner, a salesman, living at 417 S. Belmont avenue, Newark, N. J.

MR. O. G. ZEUSCHNER.

while talking recently with the Plant Juice Man.

"My stomach was in such a disordered condition that I had to live on a strict diet before I took Plant Juice," Mr. Zeuschner continued. "My appetite was poor and what food I ate caused indigestion and such gas in my stomach that I would be in misery. Besides this, my liver was inactive and I sometimes had spots before my eyes and suffered from pains under my short ribs on my right side. It often seemed like the gall ducts would fill up which caused such pain at night that I would have to put on hot compresses. And in addition, my nerves were in bad shape and I was suffering from Neuritis in my knees."

"Your Plant Juice has changed all of this. My stomach is in fine condition now and my appetite has returned and I eat three good meals a day and do not suffer any misery afterward. And I am getting proper nourishment and strength from my food. I have more energy and ambition. In addition, my liver and kidneys work fine now. The pains have left my right side; neuritis in my knees has been relieved and my bowels are more regular than for years."

"Yes, as I said before, I am not only 100 per cent better but am 1000 per cent improved and I give your Plant Juice the full credit for this wonderful change in me and will say that if sufferers try Plant Juice they surely will not waste their money, for it is a wonderful medicine."

Plant Juice is sold in Lima at the Hunter drug stores, 49 Public Square and Main and Wayne streets and at the Argonne drug store, 100 Post Office.

A MONOPOLY OF THE AIR

LIMA radio fans are particularly interested in litigation now under way with reference to control of the air and the programs they may be able to get therefrom. They are watching the progress of a suit filed by the American Telegraph & Telephone Co. in which that organization seeks to prevent broadcasting instruments being made by an independent concern.

The Cleveland Press has very decided ideas on this matter. It says editorially:

Take it from any radio fan, the question of the hour isn't Teapot Dome, but whether the American Telegraph & Telephone Company is to be allowed a monopoly of the air, as it already has a monopoly of the telephone system.

The company undertook to get control of radio by buying up patents to instruments. Right now the struggle for control is centered in New York, where the A. T. & T. has brought a lawsuit to prevent broadcasting with instruments made by an independent manufacturer.

If the A. T. & T. wins, "one man at the office of the great corporation bringing this suit and others could dictate what the entire nation should hear on their radio sets. That is entirely too much power to place in one position."

The quotation is that of Henry M. Shaw, president of the Radio Trade Association. Along with Shaw are ministers, theater owners and other citizens as much interested in a free radio as they are in free speech or a free press.

Secretary of Commerce Hoover, whose department has jurisdiction over broadcasting, has joined in the fight on the side of the independents. Says he:

"It would be most unfortunate for the people of this country, to whom radio broadcasting has become an important incident of life, if its control should come into the hands of any single corporation, individual or combination. It would be in principle the same as the the entire press of the country were so controlled."

If it is going to be necessary, in order to regulate broadcasting, for any sort of a monopoly to develop, there is only one monopoly the people will tolerate. That is like the postoffice, a monopoly by the government.

A HAPPY SLAVE

THIS man became a slave to health—John L. Patterson, founder of the National Cash Register Co. His biographer, Samuel Crowther, tells about it.

Patterson's health broke down from overwork and strain when he was 60. He had always been a determined fighter, always gone after things hammer-and-tongs. That's how he went after new health.

Patterson was an admirer of Cornaro, the Italian, who believed that most people dig their graves with their teeth, and who fasted scientifically, living to well over 100 years.

So Patterson started by fasting 37 days, taking only a few sips of water a day. The fast made him feel so much better that he went on a scientific vegetarian diet, chiefly baked potatoes and toasted crusts.

Full of enthusiasm, Patterson went to London and hired the strong man, Sandow, to train him.

For months Sandow worked with Patterson as if training a prizefighter. He made him ride 25 miles a day on horseback. Most of his other time was strenuously used in the gymnasium. A special trainer rubbed him down numerous times each day.

At the end of a year Patterson returned to his Dayton business "a new man." He employed a staff of doctors to watch him. They hovered nearby constantly—weighing him, testing his blood pressure, listening to his heart, charting his temperature. Food for his meals was weighed on delicate scales.

Patterson took five baths and rubdowns a day, a special doctor watching the temperature of his bath. Every 30 minutes, a valet brought him a glass of hot distilled water.

He rose at 4 every morning, took a horseback ride, had bath and breakfast. Then to work for an hour, next a bath and rubdown and into bed for an hour in a special room at his factory. This program was repeated thru the day.

The result? Well, Patterson lived 18 years after his breakdown at 60, and was vigorous and happy to the end.

Patterson's experience demonstrates that man can reach almost any goal if he is willing to work hard enough and devote sufficient time to the quest.

Many will wonder if his 18 years of good health was worth the price he paid for it, financially and in time expended. Was the game worth the candle? It certainly was, for he enjoyed the whole process. He was a happy slave. All of us are slaves to some one or some system, job or hobby. As long as we enjoy it, why not?

O O O O O

Only a few more weeks now until April showers bring a floods.

A Page from the Diary of An Antiquated Reporter: Up very late, after a night of ill sleep. Coxed by some one telling me the farmers were protesting Timmie's plan to make trees grow. Along the Harding highway, where only telephone poles now stand. Agriculturists claim the shade will ruin the crops in the fence corners.

Away, in a half snow and half rain, very nasty. At the post office, greetings from Mr. Applas, of ever growing money. Albeit, an looked for two engagements on Friday as it is. Whatever else they forget, the dear kiddies never forget a promise to take 'em to the movie.

In a talk with two married women over a ginger ale flizz, both admitted. They would rather have a hubby who beat them, than a hubby by all smiles and no dough.

Lunched, with the congressmen at the Hughes foodery. Very good, with the potatoes and cold slaw just rite. No sweet this day. As Dr. Quiller, who conducts the medical section, in this eminent epistle of piffle, declared there were 450 calories in one teaspoonful of sugar. So, why spend your money on sweets? Howbeit, of all the big talk doctors make, no one has ever shown me a calory. Looked for them one whole day in our kitchen, and never found anything like I think a calory should be.

In the afternoon, variously overthe towns. Waving to Charlie Federman, who failed to note me; and bowing to Henry Wemmer in his motor coach, again unseen. Back to the shoppe and cast up accounts after the income debacle. Finding myself in good shape, but reversed. Instead of the ten per cent saved: It is on the books. Of those who believe in me.

Like a doll, down to the Parson, who cut me in the last visit. And a more steady hand he now has, having abandoned his mid-lenten enterprise. There saw no one of importance. Out and above stairs, in discourse with Judge William Klinger.

Came M'seur Fitzgerald, of Montreal, giving invite for two rounds of golf in Quebec in July. You know those Canadian French are no fools. They take $2 a quart tax for their own, before it starts up the river, or down this way by gas bus.

In the evening, friends gathered over the white tiles and draggones. While I ventured a few pages in "Young Felix." Later mixed them an feed drink, from orange juice and cocoa-cola, quite tart. And they, very merry, believe; they were foxed, rather. So, late to bed.

Should Baby Talk.

One of the many curious and interesting facts is that girl babies start talking three or four months earlier than boys, as a rule. I barely mention the matter and draw no inferences from it, neither do I indulge in any scientific speculation on the subject. Suffice to record that the female of the species has the first word, too, and the laconism of the male is more a refuge than an attribute. Since she has it on him coming and going he may as well try to be philosophical about it.

Now young parents, the naturally preferring boys to children, do not like 'em philosophical. As with canaries, the heavier demand is for males, who sing better. But here the analogy ends, for birds and babies have nothing else in common, notwithstanding a superficial similarity in their food in some cases. Young parents—and all parents of either boy babies or children, are young until the little 'unc begin to do up, bob or lose their hair—will agree that canaries and babies are as far apart as the poles, just comparing the size of the bills, for one thing. When the baby begins his walks and talks we all want him to do it right. We are usually anxious lest he stay pigeon toed, flat footed and bow legged, as he is seemingly at first. Indeed we want him to walk straight—but we teach him the craziest crookedest pidgin—why, we try to make the baby use language a doll wouldn't use; we assume that the kind of talk the dog ignores and the cat scorns to notice is quite the proper line of lingo for the baby.

Imagine the enormous difficulties the baby has to meet in learning to use his speech apparatus and in acquiring by ear a practical command of straight English, which, linguists declare, is about the most difficult of all languages to master. Then imagine the appalling discouragements the baby encounters in his groping when you feed him instead the gibberish libelously called "baby talk."

"Come, baby, get in your cart and we'll go meet daddy," is surely as easy to understand and easier for the baby to learn to say than "Tum tum doo-doo-mama go by by in choo choo see da da."

Aside from the handicap which "baby talk" places in the way of the natural education of the baby, in some cases the baby learns this pidgin so very well that it sticks to him much longer than his milk teeth do and the erring parents realize in their embarrassment that they have made a serious mistake.

Precious few of us get any too pure English lessons from our elders at home. But it is at home that we learn to use such English as is our habit, whether it comply with the grammar we study at school or not.

JUST FOLKS

BY EDGAR A. GUEST

THE LITTLE HOUSE
A little house with laughter in it,
A singing kettle and a fire.
A tree where nests the summer
linnet,
What more can any man desire?

A sheltering roof with peace below
it,
A door which every friend may pass,
A shelf of books for sage and poet,
What more can any man amass?

A garden with the roses gleaming,
A few glad toys upon the floor,
A big arm chair for happy dreaming,
The richest man can have no more.

A child upon your knee, and maybe
On the rug a dog or cat,
Then add to this a dimpled baby,
And who has greater wealth than that?

(Copyright, 1921)

It is hardly fair to a baby, therefore, to encourage him to waste his time and efforts on "baby talk." To teach him such stuff in lieu of straight English is to assume that your baby is defective and cannot learn the language you yourself use.

The average girl child begins with such words as "papa" and "mamma" about the end of the first year, and the boy baby at about 15 months. By the end of the second year babies can put words together in sentences of three or four words.

Heart and Kidney Diseases Caused By Torpid Liver

Blood carries body poisons through the system to vital organs

To clear our systems of poison toxins that taint the blood and break down health, we must keep the liver regulated. Medical science now knows that the liver is our most important organ because it destroys the body poisons that cause diseases of the heart, kidneys, blood vessels, create high blood pressure and premature old age.

When the liver becomes torpid, these poisons, instead of being destroyed, are carried through the system by the blood. Then Nature gives quick warnings. You have sudden sick headaches, dizzy spells, nausea when even the sight of food may sicken you. If your stomach is acid from your bile and your skin becomes sallow or blotchy, you may know poisons are in your blood.

Science now has found the only way to keep the liver normal. Doctors know the liver cannot be regulated by drugs, but there is a safe Nature substance which will act directly on the liver. The discovery is purified ox gall.

Get from your druggist a package of Dioxol. Each tablet contains ten drops of purified ox gall. In 24 hours the poison toxins will be removed. Your liver will be regulated. Blood purification will begin. Sallow skin will clear. You will feel so much better you will know you have found the cause of your ill health. Dioxol tablets are harmless, tasteless and cost less than two cents each. adv.

That cloud on teeth is film. At first the film is viscous. You can feel it now. Soon it discolors, forming those dingy coats.

No ordinary tooth paste effectively combats it, so the coats may long remain.

Film holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Such troubles are almost universal with people who don't fight film.

I'm so blamed tired since I'll hollers that I've a notion I'll lay out a couple o' fines (all 18 gits) I feelin' better," said Bootlegger the Lark, A. M. Who does the unmarried man treat like a brute when he don't go his way?

FORTUNE'S FOOL

Colonel Holmes, soldier and adventurer, returns to England, his native land, when with Holland is declared. His Grace of Buckingham hires Holmes to assist the beautiful actress, Sylvia, in her performance. It is dark when the colonel carries her to the Duke's residence. Holmes is surprised to find that Sylvia is an old sweetheart. The Duke's servants are ordered to the colonel's room. When the Duke is alone, he orders his servants to embrace Sylvia, her dress falls from her throat, revealing a purple blotch, the mark of the plague. The Duke is horrified. When Holmes catches the plague Sylvia hides from him. Holmes saves himself unworried and leaves Sylvia, who is left to die. Holmes goes to call on his old landlord, who tells him that his Grace of Althorpe is looking for a safe man, meaning a man who has had the plague. Holmes calls on the Duke and is given a commission in the army. The colonel tells Althorpe that he should like to marry Sylvia and take her with him to his home. His Grace listens to the tale of the colonel's adventures with much interest.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

"Well, well," he said at length, having consulted an entry. "The English Lass is fitting at Portsmouth for the voyage, and should be ready, I am informed, in two weeks from now. But there are ever delays at present, and it is odds that in no case would she be ready in less than three weeks. I'll see to it that she is not ready under a month."

Impetuously the Colonel held out both hands to the Duke.

"What a friend you are!" he cried.

Althorpe wrung them hard. "You're damnably like your father, God rest him!" said he, then, almost brusquely: "Away with you, now, and good luck to you. I'll not let you stay to see her grace at present, since you're pressed. You shall kiss her hands before you sail. Be off!"

Holmes took his leave. At the door he suddenly checked, and, turning, displayed a rueful countenance.

"Altho I have the King's commission in my pocket and hold an important office in his service, I haven't a shilling in the world," he said. "Not a shilling."

Althorpe responded instantly by producing a purse from which he counted twenty pounds. There was no sign of parsimonious reluctance about his offer now.

"As a loan of course," said Holmes, gathering up the yellow coins.

"No, no," Althorpe corrected him. "An advance. Take no further thought for it. The Treasury shall refund me the money at once."

CHAPTER XXIX

The Miracle

Away from Whitehall, where the ground was green with thriving grass, went Colonel Holmes at speed. He set his face toward Islington once more, and swung along with great strides, carrying in his breast a heart more like than he had known for many a year. Blind and deaf to all about him, his mind sped ahead of his limbs to the goal for which he made.

It was four weeks since he had seen Nancy, and those in that house of rest where he had spent the period of his sequestration could tell him nothing of her since they held no direct intercourse with those who had their being in the pest-house. In a month much may betide. Evil might have befallen her, or she might have departed thence.

To conceive, then, the dread anxiety in which he came, breathless, hot and weary from the speed he had made to the open fields and at last to the stout, spiked gates of that pleasant homestead that had been put to the uses of a lazaret. Here a stern and surly guardian denied him passage.

"You cannot enter, sir. What do you seek?"

"Happiness, my friend," said the Colonel, completing the other's conception that he was made. But his demand that the gate should be unbarred for him held an authority that was not lightly to be denied.

"You understand, sir," the gatekeeper asked him, "that, once you enter here, you may not go back whence you come for twenty-eight days, at least?"

"I understand," said Holmes, "and I come prepared to pay the price."

The gatekeeper shrugged. "Ye're warned," he said, and raised the bar, thus removing, as he thought, all obstacles that kept a fool from his folly.

Colonel Holmes entered. The gates closed behind him, and he took his way briskly, almost at a run, down the long avenue in the dappled shade of the beech trees and elms that bordered it, making straight for the nearest of the red-brick outhouses, which was the one which he himself had occupied during his sickness.

A broadly built, elderly woman perceived his approach from the doorway, and, after staring at him a moment in surprise and consternation, started forward to meet him, calling to him to stand. But he came on heedless and breathless until they were face to face.

"How came you in, you foolish man?" she cried.

"You don't know me, Mrs. Barlow?" he asked her.

"Save us! It's Colonel Holmes!" And almost without pause she went on in a voice of distress: "But you were to have left the house of rest today. Whatever can have brought you back here to undo all again?"

"Nay, not to undo. To do, Mrs. Barlow, by God's help. But ye've a singular good memory, to remember that I should be leaving today!"

She shook her head, and smiled with a touch of sadness. "Twasn't me that remembered, sir. It was Miss Sylvester." And again she shook her head.

"She's here, then! Ha! She is well?"

"Well enough, poor dear. But oh, so mortal sad. She's yonder, rest under the cedars—a place she's haunted this past month."

He swung aside, and, without more than a hurriedly flung word of thanks or excuse, he was gone swiftly across the lawn, toward that cluster of cedars, amid whose gnarled old trunks he could discern the flutter of a gay gown.

She had haunted the spot this month past, Mrs. Barlow had said. And it was the spot where they had spoken their farewells.

As he drew nearer over the soft, yielding turf that deadened all sound of steps, he saw her sitting on that stone seat where a month ago he had taken her in the conviction that he was never to behold her again with the eyes of the flesh.

He stood there, breathless, at a loss. And then as if she sensed his presence, she slowly turned and looked behind her. A long while she stared, startled, white-faced.

He plunged forward.

"Oh, Randal, why have you come here? You should have gone away."

"I went, and I have returned, Nan," he told her, standing there beside her now.

"You have returned!" She looked him over more attentively now, and observed the brave suit of dark blue camelot that so well became his tall, spare frame, and the fine Spanish boots that were now overlaid with dust.

"You have returned!" she said again.

"Nan," he said, "a miracle has happened." And from his breast he drew that parchment with its great seal. "I have come back, Nan, because at last I can offer you something in exchange for all that you will give me in taking me."

She sank down slowly, weakly, to the seat, he standing over her, until they were in the same attitude of a month ago.

"It is real, this? It . . . It is true? True?" she asked aloud, though not of him. And then she sat back again, and looked up into his eyes.

"It is not very much, perhaps, when all is said, tho it seems much to me today, and with you beside me I shall know how to make it more. Still, it is as it is. I offer it." And he tossed the parchment down into her lap.

She looked at the white crept about the corners of her sweet mouth, and a little smile crept about the corners of her sweet mouth, and smiled there. Into her mind there leapt the memory of the big boast of quest for her sake with which he had set out in the long ago.

"Is this the world you promised me, Randal?" she asked him. And her heart bounded at the old rallying note, which laid his last doubt to rest.

As much of it as I can contrive to get," said he.

"Then it will be enough for me," she answered. She rose, and, standing close before him, held out the parchment still unfolded.

"But you haven't looked," he protested.

"What need to look? It is your kingdom, you have told me. And I'll take your kingdom whatever it may be."

"It is situated in the Indies . . . in Bombay," said he, with a certain hesitancy.

"I always had a thirst for travel," she said deliberately.

He put an arm about her shoulder, and drew her head down on to his breast. "My dear," he murmured, "he held her thus in a silence that was like a prayer, until, at length, she raised her face.

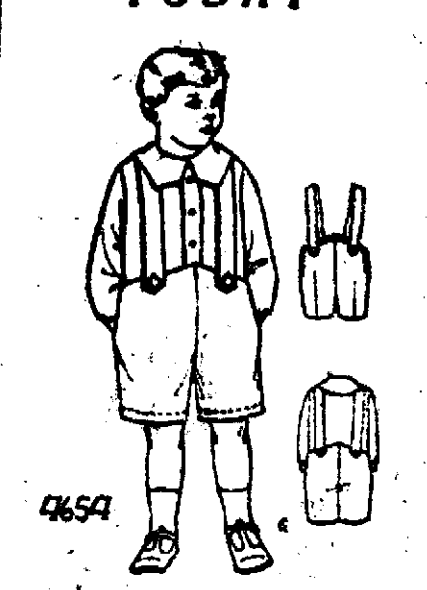

"Do you know, Randal, that it is more years than I care to think of since you kissed me, and then you vexed me by stealing what is now mine to take."

He was a little awed. But, after all, with all his faults, he was never to yield to fear.

They were married on the morrow, and their honeymoon was spent in sequestration that the law exacted. Certified clear of infection at last, they were permitted to go forth to garner the honors that Fortune had set up for Randal Holmes to make amends for all that he had earlier done at her hands.

An Intimate Story of Innocent Emotions Revealed in Private Letters

LETTER FROM SYDNEY CARTON TO PAULA PERIER

MY DEAR GIRL: I always expected this of you. I knew, when the occasion arose, you would rise to it. You can close the book now, and altho it has been rather tragic, yet in a way you must be glad that you read it clear thru to the end; for I am sure you have learned that loving is not all of life, and that the greatest pain must cease some time.

A very charming woman told me the other day that people were very foolish to worry. She said: "If one has trouble, you may either help it, or it may overcome you. Don't worry about it. If you die, it won't worry you any more, and if you work it out, you don't need to worry any more." Rather good philosophy, isn't it?

I'm awfully glad you saw Leslie, Paula, for under any other circumstances you two women should be great friends. I always thought this, and I know it now since I received your letter after you had met Leslie. It was a brave thing of you, my dear, to decide not to make any trouble about the boy. Of course I know you really would not do anything unless you made Leslie so miserable that she would voluntarily give the baby up, and I do not think she would do this under any circumstances.

Leslie, you know, has a very tenacious sense of duty, and having taken the boy into her home, I think she would feel she could give him a better bringing up than you. I do not think she would feel this because of any moral scruples whatever, but because your work necessarily would keep you away from him. You could not give him the mother's care that she can give.

You will also forgive me, Paula, if I say to you that as the years go on your hurt will grow less and less, and the boy will seem but a dream to you. Your fate is to be that of a great cinema queen.

I am not sure I would wish that fate for any woman that I cared much for, for all the women I have ever known, and I have known three or four, that were on the stage, and who were successful actresses or singers, I have known none that was particularly happy. One has to pay for the plaudits of the public by the loss of the real love of one's friends.

As things have turned out, my dear, I am glad you went back to Albany. It was a triumph for you outwardly as well as inwardly. You made all those supercilious women rather envious of you, and I know that you made me very proud of you. For you not only conquered their prejudices, but your own lesser self.

I expect I am preaching a little, but sometimes I feel like an old, old man who has seen every phase of life, and yet who has missed the one great joy of living.

I am returning east very soon, and probably will miss you somewhere along the way. But again I want to tell you I am glad you have met

Leslie and appreciate her goodness, her sweetness, and all her other splendid qualities.

Thru a chain of circumstances we seldom meet, yet to me Leslie Prescott is the most delightfully sincere woman I have ever known. There, I've said it.

Dear Paula, keep my secret as I have kept yours.

Always, SYD.

You too can have a Clear Skin!

WHY worry and fret—wish and hope? Why be jealous of those with clear, soft skin? It is within the reach of all. A rich, ruddy, wholesome complexion is possible. It is not something that is just beyond our reach. Neither is it something that requires years and years of toil to acquire. That clear, soft skin is within the reach of each and every one of us. Not like precious stones available to a chosen few—clear, soft skin—rich and pure—the sparkle and brightness of youth—is available to each and every one—rich and poor—young and old.

PRICES OF WHEAT ON SLUMP

General Liquidation is Followed by Sharp Breaks

SUPPORT FOR VALUES SLIGHT

Losses in Corn and Oats Are Also Recorded

CHICAGO. — (Associated Press) — Sharp new breaks in the price of wheat took place today shortly after the market opened. General liquidation on the part of holders was started by persistent selling that came from houses with eastern connections. No support for values showed itself except demand from previous sellers who were in a position to collect profits. The opening, which varied from unchanged figures to 1-4 and 3-8c lower, with May $1.05 1-2 to 1.05 5-8, was followed by an irregular setback of nearly 1-2 cents all around. Corn and oats weakened in sympathy with wheat, corn dropping to last week's inside figure. After opening 1-8 to 3-8c off, May 77 3-4 to 77 7-8, corn fell to 77 1-8, May.

INQUEST HELD IN DEATH OF WOMAN AT CROSSING

DELPHOS — George Van Osdale of Ft. Wayne, engineer on the Washington Broadway limited which struck a machine and killed two ladies here early Monday, testified at a hearing before Coroner W. E. Veach of Van Wert-co, that he did not see the machine until the locomotive struck it. He said the accident took him just a second before the accident that they were going to strike a machine, and that he immediately applied the emergency brakes. Pat O'Donoghue, Ft. Wayne, conductor, gave the speed of the train as 60 miles per hour. Victims of the tragedy were Mrs. John L. Delphos of Delphos and Miss Clara Middlekamp of Ottoville.

SCOTT CASE IS IN HANDS OF JURY

"You're a Liar" is Defendant's Cry at Prosecutor

Fate of George Washington C. Scott, 42, negro evangelist and hotel porter, rests in hands of a jury of six men and six women. Arguments in the trial of the action in which Scott was charged with a statutory crime against Eva Rader, 8, white school girl, 677 N. Jackson-st., were concluded at noon. During windup of the case, and during arguments, the defendant sat in court reading the Bible or a religious tract of some sort. Once he roused himself when hotly scored for changing his testimony and when perjury charges were hurled by Lippincott in the closing argument. "You're a liar," he shouted, but continued to stay the defendant in his argument to the jury.

SKATES AND SCOOTERS OUTLAWED DOWN TOWN

OTTAWA — B. M. Cahill, marshal, has opened war on boys and girls who roller skate in the business district, those who travel on small scooters and who ride on one foot in express wagons, pushing the vehicle with another foot. Marshal Cahill emphasized the danger of a fatality and announced that in the future, boys and girls who disobeyed the order would be taken before Mayor W. A. Butler for questioning. Under the provisions of the ordinance, a fine may be imposed by the mayor. The restricted district in which the children's playthings cannot be brought is on E. and W. Main-st. between Foot-st. on the west, and Locust-st. on the east.

WOMEN AID PARK CAMPAIGN

Association Takes Charge of Drive at Delphos

DELPHOS — Meeting of Business Women's Association Wednesday culminated in the decision to start a drive for the collection of funds to further the improvements that are expected to be made on the Water Works park. Envelopes, upon which the names of the people solicited will be written, are to be distributed Wednesday in all wards and the downtown section. Citizens will be given the opportunity to contribute any amount they wish for the betterment of the park. The envelopes will be left with the residents and the business houses for one week and then will be collected in the same manner in which they will be placed.

GRANGE PLAY PROCURES FUNDS FOR INSTITUTE

LEIPSHIC — Members of Leipshic Grange presented Tuesday evening the play, "Forest Acres," in the High school auditorium. Object of the presentation was to obtain funds to defray expenses of a farmers' institute, held here in February. The play contrasts the farmer who devotes his time and money to his stock and farm and neglects his wife and children in the present day, with the farmer who sees his mistake and tries for his children, instead of his cattle.

NEW YORK (Associated Press) — Short covering operations interrupted firm tone to opening prices today's stock market. Low and medium priced rails were again in demand. Erie first preferred and Chesapeake and Ohio continued their rise to higher ground. Tobacco products which were heavily sold yesterday rallied a point. Prices continued their upward trend through the early dealings with the principal fluctuations taking place in the specialties. Standard Industrials showed little change except for a renewal of selling pressure against Studebaker which yielded a half. Other automotive shares made good recovery from recent heaviness. Mack Truck, Fisher Body and Maxwell A. rising to nearly 2 points. General Electric moved up 1 to 2 1/2, another new high since 1920. Other strong gains included Central Leather, National Wire, Matson, Alkali, National Lead and Colorado Fuel up 1 to 3 points. Foreign exchanges opened steady.

"HOME SWEET HOME" CHANGES HIS SUBJECT

DELPHOS — Rev. Father John Clark, of Lima, for years a missionary, and ex-chaplain of the U. S. Army, and at present pastor of St. Gerard's parish at Lima, delivered an eloquent address to members of the Kiwanis club at their weekly dinner meeting Tuesday evening. Father Clark came to Delphos prepared to deliver a lecture on "Manhood," but after hearing two ladies sing, "Home, Sweet Home," changed his mind. "I had my speech all written out," he said. "If you don't believe it, here it is. But after hearing that song I've changed my mind. Instead of lecturing to you on 'Manhood,' I'm coming to speak to you on 'Home, Sweet Home'."

DEISEL-WEMMER FIRST IN INDUSTRIAL BASKETBALL

CIGARMAKERS FINISH FIRST IN CAGING RACE

Deisel-Wemmer is the Industrial Basketball league champion as the result of its win over Garford, 21-15, in the final game of the season Tuesday night at the Y. M. C. A.

If the Garford team had won the game, Lake Erie, by virtue of its win over the Lima Locomotive, 20-12, in the second half of the evening, would have gone into a tie with the cigar-makers. Realizing this, the Deisel-Wemmers let loose all their strength in the last game and when the smoke had cleared the score stood 21-15 in their favor, giving them the 1924 championship.

The first half of the Garford-Deisel-Wemmer game resulted in a 6-2 verdict for the cigar-makers, but only after a hard struggle on their part. Neither team scored until late in the first half. Then the cigar men tossed in three baskets and the Garford one. The league winners ran up a big lead over the truck-builders early in the first part of the final period, but held by Brown and Peling sent the Garford's score to a dangerous point. Then Deisel-Wemmer settled down, prevented further scoring, and came out in the lead.

LAKE ERIE SHOWS CLASS

In the second contest of the triple bill, Lake Erie defeated the Lima Locomotive because of superior passing and teamwork. Both teams missed a large number of easy shots in the first half, and neither team scored until late in the period. Lake Erie moved out ahead at half time, 8-1. In the second half the Locomotive came within two points of tying the score after Lake Erie had made several baskets, the count at the time being 14-12.

But O'Connor, side-stepping and easy-going Lake Erie forward, broke loose for three baskets after some pretty passwork on the part of his team. O'Connor had five fielders for his evening's work.

The guarding of Hendel and Thompson, Lake Erie's defensive men featured the game. Greenland's all-around play was also a feature.

TRUST TIES SOLAR

Lima Trust Co. earned a tie for fourth place with Solar Refinery by handing the refinery a 27-19 final margin in the first game of the evening. At half-time Solar had not scored a point.

Erin Emans, Trust forward, was the individual scoring star of the evening. He tossed on eight from the field, besides adding three more points on free throws. His eye in this, the final contest, proved unusually keen. Daley, Trust center, had six field goals. Gilmore led in scoring for the losers with three baskets.

CIGAR-MAKERS TO GET CUP

Deisel-Wemmer, league champion, will be awarded a cup at the Y. M. C. A. on March 22. Lake Erie, which won the championship last year, will also receive a cup for last year's work, an honor as awarded them. Lines and summaries:

SISLER'S EYES IMPROVED NOT CURED

(BY JOE WILLIAMS)

MOBILE, Ala. — George Sisler, gifted first baseman and Louis Browns, has come back from the darkness — but he is not yet basking in the bright sunshine of perfect vision.

While the condition of his right eye, affected by sinus a year ago to the extent that he was unable to see a thrown baseball all during the 1923 season, may be said to have improved amazingly, it is still several degrees below normal.

Six months ago Sisler had difficulty in recognizing you. Sisler could not see to read or write. His situation seemed to be at a standstill. He wore heavy, amber glasses. He avoided meeting people, and kept to himself, watching the Browns play from an obscure box in the upper stands.

Today Sisler recognizes you instantly. He no longer wears glasses on or off the field. A small mountain of sporting pages lay on his reading table the day I called and he was "elbow deep" in correspondence. "I didn't know a manager had to write so many letters," he smiled.

A "LEFT-EYE" PLAYER

Seemingly he wants people to know themselves that his eyes are better. A total stranger accosted him in the lobby of the Battle House and with less discretion than decency, asked the usual question. Sisler took off his hat and answered, "Take a good look and see for yourself, old man."

All this notwithstanding, Sisler is not yet the Sisler of old. Watch him on the ball field and you note that he favors his right eye—the affected one—and places a major burden on the left. Going after a high ball in the infield he cocks his head to one side and makes what might be called a "left-eye" catch.

Only Five Backeyes Got Letters for Cage Season

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Regular players on Ohio State's basketball team stood the gaff of the torrid Big Ten season just ended so well that only five men participated in enough actual combats to entitle them to letters. Three other players were granted their "OAA's" for meritorious service.

The five award "O's" are Capt. John Miner, Capt.-elect George D. Cameron, Harold Cunningham, Melville Shaw, and Ralph Seiffer. Winners of the "OAA" are Keith E. DeVoe, Jacob Matusoff and John B. Wilson.

Hollocher Hard to Fool
Shortstop Charly Hollocher, who refuses to report to the Chicago Cubs, because of a salary difference, is the hardest man in the National League to strike out. He whiffed only five times last season. Eddie Collins, with eight strikeouts, was the toughest batter to fool in the American League.

Two Hard-Hitting Pitchers
They do say that pitchers cannot hit. The average of the 1923 world series fail to bear out that belief. Jack Bentley, with an average of strikeouts. Babe Ruth, in the American League, went back to the bench 93 times on strikes during the 1923 campaign.

Erratic at the Bat
George Granham, second baseman of the Chicago Cubs, had a peculiar year of it at the bat last season. He finished with the healthy average of .280, batted in 70 runs, yet led the league in the matter of strikeouts. Babe Ruth, in the American League, went back to the bench 93 times on strikes during the 1923 campaign.

FIRPO'S STORY GIVEN LITTLE CREDIT HERE

NEW YORK — (Associated Press) — Luis Angel Firpo's announcement that he would retire from the ring after fighting Al Reich, an American, at Buenos Aires next month, came as something of a bombshell in pugilistic circles, where its effect on the year's fistie program was the chief topic. In some quarters there was skepticism over Firpo's assertion, and a belief that sufficient financial inducements would influence the giant Argentine to change his mind.

William McCarney, Firpo's American representative, who arranged an extended exhibition and fighting tour of the United States and Canada during the summer, late today had received no direct word from Firpo and was holding his program in abeyance until receipt of advice from the South American. Tex Rickard, under whose guidance the colorful South American climbed spectacularly in six months from obscurity to a record breaking title fight with Jack Dempsey, was in Washington and his associates would make no comment.

DEMPSEY THINKS HOKUM
SALT LAKE CITY, Utah — Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, does not take much stock in press reports of Luis Angel Firpo's contemplated retirement. "That's a lot of hokum, I think," he said, after seeing the reports.

"It looks like a publicity scheme and perhaps a move toward increasing his demands for future fights in the United States," Dempsey said. "The shrill cry of the American eagle is too tempting for any fellow who can 'sock' like the 'Wild Bull of the Pampas.'"

CLEVELAND BOWLERS STILL LEAD

CHICAGO — The American Bowling Congress tournament enters its final week Thursday with only the world's record, 732 of Frank Kair of Chicago in the singles, expected to withstand the assault on the leaders. Chicago's hopes of taking the grand prize, the five man championship, went glimmering last night when its Mineralite team failed to obtain first place, four pins shy of an uncontested claim on first, dropping into second, back of Herb's Indians of Cleveland, with 3,041.

Chicagoans are in the majority in Wednesday's entries in the singles and doubles in which teams from Toledo, Akron and Elyria, Ohio; Atlanta, Ga.; Jacksonville, Fla.; Oklahoma City, Okla., and Iron River, Mich., among others, also are entered.

In Wednesday night's five men team competition, Canton and Akron, Ohio, New York Racine, Wis., Chicago, Elgin and Decatur, Ills., will have teams rolling.

CHURCHMAN GOING TO FINDLAY

Winners in the Sunday School league here will hook up with the two leaders of the Findlay Sunday School league at the end of the season, it was announced by officials Tuesday.

Market Presbyterian is practically certain to win the league championship, having won nine and lost but one game. Trinity M. E. and Central Church of Christ are tied for second place at the present time with five wins and four losses apiece. South Side Church of Christ has won four and lost four and they have a chance to take second place and go to Findlay.

DEISEL-WEMMERS MEET GRACE

Announcement was made near the end of the Garford-Deisel-Wemmer game Tuesday night at the Y. M. C. A. that Deisel-Wemmer, Industrial league champions, would meet Grace M. E., leaders in the Church league at the present time, in an inter-league game next Tuesday evening at the Y. M. C. A.

In case Grace loses its game Saturday in the league, and First U. B. wins, First U. B. will meet the cigar-makers as that church will lead the league by half a game. However, Grace has a weak opponent Saturday and should win its contest, thereby insuring them of the lead.

Jack Fournier brought word that Stock wants to play with Brooklyn.

NEW ORLEANS — While it was raining at the Yankee training camp all the excitement was created by Babe Ruth, who lost a $1,000 bill. The Babe started to the bank with four of them and when he got there he had only three. He had no insurance. The Yankees will be idle while the mother of Colonel Ruppert is being buried.

SARASOTA, Fla. — Condition of Heinie Groh is beginning to cause the Giant veterans concern. Groh, who was operated on for hernia early in the winter, has been unable to last thru the season. If Groh fails the Giants have only young Maguire and Lindstrom to fall back on.

BRADENTOWN, Fla. — The failure of Frank Chance, manager of the Chicago White Sox, to appear, has started discussion of whether the "peerless leader" will be in harness this year. # Campus Togs

Clothes for Men and Young Men

WHY we chose the name Campus Togs for our clothes

Despite the fact that for twenty-five years we made our clothes and sold them under the label, Chas. Kaufman & Bros., we chose the name Campus Togs as significant of the new spirit in clothes for men of all ages.

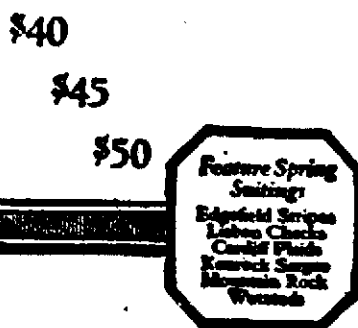

For the past ten years we have featured Campus Togs as the trade label for our clothes. It seemed to us significant as a name that would indicate clothes designed and proportioned to please discriminating men. It also signifies in dress the breeze and smartness that the young man or college boy who travels the campus has, and which puts him in the envied class, at least from the standpoint of being youthful and making the most of his age in his appearance.

To also put youthful appearance into clothes for older men, was the new feature for our designing department to work out successfully, and in its achievement we confidently present clothes to the world, for all men, which measure up to the significance of the trade name we have chosen.

We guarantee our clothes
